⇒Math:

⇒In math this week, students continued their area and perimeter unit. Please ask them about finding area by using the distributive property.

⇒Literacy :

Students are continuing our unit of study by reading Peter Pan. Students are working to recount the most important parts of a story and to comparing the text to Peter Pan in Kensington Gardens and comparing the similarities and differences between the related texts.

Talk to your student about their favorite VIPs

⇒Science:

Students got to experience a new science unit this week.

Ms. Coffey-Hanlin's students worked with Miss Dunbar to explore similarities and differences among landforms. They will be assigned a project on this topic on Monday.
